My dear Admiral:

STAT I have just learned that one of the old Navy boys who served with me when I was Director of Public Information, [redacted] by name, is now functioning with CIG. His particular talent lies with news analysis. He has long been a student of news interpretation and I am sure that you will find that he will be extremely helpful to you.

I am taking it upon myself to let you know how valuable he proved to the Navy in that capacity. His personality and talent, combined with his wide experience along this type of work, should make him equally as valuable to you.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Win Miller
